

Marta Maccaglia THE PROCESSES AS A LEARNING SPACE

Marta Maccaglia is founder of the Asociación Semillas. She deals with architecture projects, becoming a specialist in educational, academic and research spaces in the Peruvian Amazon emerging contexts' and human settlements of Lima. She's also a project agent in Peru of the Italian NGO CPS - Comunità promozione sviluppo, for programs of international cooperation. Marta Maccaglia is also a professor at the architecture department of Universidad de Ciencias y Artes de América Latina (Ucal). There she has been awarded for excellence in teaching by Universidad de Ciencias y Artes de América Latina (Ucal). Furthermore she's winner of the Global Award for Sustainable Architecture 2018, in Paris by Cité de l'architecture & du patrimoine, sponsored by UNESCO.

She pursued a Master degree in interior architecture and exhibition design at La Sapienza university of Rome (Italy). Her interests lie in education, from the spaces to teaching activity and photography.

17.12.2019
16:00 - 17:00
ONA G23

Language: English